New card technology enables users to seamlessly manage multiple applications and access control in a single credential containing diverse technologies, in a true “one card” solution.

Each slot in the vault is protected by an authentication key.

To get credentials this new technology must know the authentication key for the slot that the credential is stored in.

Key Benefits:

• Versatile strong authentication
• Increased interoperability
• Effective risk mitigation
• Enhanced privacy
• Greater return on investment (ROI)
• Increased security and adaptability